MANCHESTER GETS ACTIVE

Manufacturing Sites and Renters in Demand Over the River. Auction Sales.

The real estate market was dull yes erday, so far as actual sales go to for too much money, or, in other is, they are holding their figures stiff for the early buyers.

From Over the River.

From Manchester come reports of active inquiry for realty, especially for property that will make good after for manufacturing enterprises. Some good sales for such purpose have been made on the south side of the James within the past few weeks, and apparently the damand for business and manufacturing sites has not been satisfied yet.

It is evident that many new people are moving into Manchester. The proof of this is to be found in the inquiry for
